*"As to the changes that are coming, as in the fulfilling of time and space (which has been

2012 is almost upon us, and we have expectations and wonder about what 2012 will bring, as well as what effects, if any, we will experience from the influence of this planetary time. Yet, the consciousness shift associated with this historical time doesn't so much happen to us, as it does from us and through us. In this 2-part series, we will exam our spiritual, mental and physical evolution, as well as our role in bringing these forth. We will also examine the paradox of realizing that we cannot evolve ourselves, bringing the question "then how do we do it?"

Part 1- April 11, 2010, 1pm - 5:30pm.

Einstein said that we cannot solve our problems at the level they were created. In the same way, we cannot build a new paradigm from our own understanding. We cannot evolve ourselves. We grow, build and evolve through that which is new that comes into our awareness and consciousness.

The beginning of our evolution of our understanding of the Spiritual aspect of ourselves is the development of an ongoing relationship to the spiritual aspect of ourselves. It is the recognition that the world we live in now is two worlds - a physical world where we find our body existing, and a spiritual world that we are growing to believe in and touch, and discovering coexists together "alongside" the physical, though only recognized through spiritual means.

Part 2 - May 16, 2010, 1pm-5:30pm.

In this session, we will explore our mental and physical paradigms, looking for ways to expand our own understanding of what we already "think we know." We will explore the role of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th chakras, with their relationship to the mind and body. We will address our current paradigms regarding the physical body and physical world.

We'll also expand on the importance of what Edgar Cayce calls, "the imaginative forces" and the impact imagination has on our own transformative evolution. We will discuss the beliefs regarding the statement, "If we can think it, we can do it."

Whether working with spiritual, mental or physical paradigms, building new paradigms never destroys the previous paradigms, but expands beyond it when the parameters - the mind - is open and permeable, with the previous paradigm serving only as a beginning for our ever growing understanding.
